FIRST TRAIN UNDER RIVER

President Gives Signal That Opens Great Tube Beneath the North River.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.-Late this afternoon President Roosevelt, at Washington, will press a button to give the signal that will mark the realization of the long cherished dream of under-ground travel from Manhattan to New Jersey. At the President's signal, the first official train, bearing a distinguished party, will start from the Manhattan terminal toward Hoboken.

At midnight the tubes will be opened to public travel. Tomorrow it is expected the system will be working as smoothly as if Jersey commuters had been traveling under the Hudson river

It is the Morton street branch of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Com-pany, the McAdoo system, leading from the terminal at Sixth avenue and Nine-teenth street, to Hoboken, that has been completed. Before the summer is over it is expected that the lower branch. running to the Cortlandt street ter-minal, will be ready for use.

In celebration of the joining of two States under the river, a distinguished crowd will make the trip on the first official train. Governors Hughes, of New York, and Fort, of New Jersey with their staffs, will be the guests of honor. Acting Mayor McGowan, of New York, and Mayor Wittpenn, of Jersey City; Mayor Steil, of Hoboken, and half a dozen other mayors of Jer-sey towns, with many councilmen and sey towns, with many councilmen and other city officials, likewise will make the trip. William McAdoo, president of the underground company, his soaff or assistants, and many prominent cftizens also will be on the train.

In Hoboken there will be speeches, and a general celebration. Tonight a banquet at Sherzy's will be held.

Negro Held in $7,000 Bond PANIC OF 1907-8 As Pocketbook Snatcher

Youth of Twenty Also Pleads Guilty Housebreaking, and Has Police Record Which Will Be Looked Into.

George H. Shreeves, the young negro whom the local police believe to be the chief fi gurein the recent purse-snatching epidemic, had an opportunity to recite some of his experiences in the Police Court this morning with the result that he is held in $7,000 bond for the grand jury. Of this amount $5,000 is for the alleged robbery of a purse from Mrs. Jeannette Williams, of Bret. It was at first thought that a white man had committed the hold-up, but Mrs. Rollins now says that while she cannot be positive as she was unshe cannot b is on the charge of breaking into the home of Charles Barber, at 610 Euclid street northwest. Shreeves pleaded guilty to both charges.

tion that will be the subject of further inquiry. He is charged with having snatched a pocketbook from Mrs. Esher, of 609 Florida avenue, December 24 at Sixth street and Florida avenue, and also has two additional cases of housebreaking against tim.

The arrest of Shreeves followed that of Daniel Shorter on suspicion of having been implicated in the purse-snatching cases. Shorter gave the detective information, which led to the arrest of Shreeves, and the latter confessed his part in the robberies. Shreeves is twenty years old, and lives at 228 W street northwest.

Double Police Force, Episcopal Clericus Asks

That the police force be doubled in Washignton is the request made of the Commissioners by the Washington Clericus, an organization composed of more than forty ministers of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The clericus, through its secretary, the Rev. George F. Dudiey, has forwarded to the Commissioners a copy of resolutions adopted by the crganization.

The Commissioners are requested to use every effort to secure the additional policemen from Congress. The communication will be considered in connection with the bill now before Congress to increase the police force by 100 men.

The third period, the one with which the present generation is familiar, he continued, was based on prosperity, and had been worked full force since 1893. In this period the Republican party had covenanted with the people to preserve prosperity through the manipulation of the taxation power, or a protective tariff. 'If it was a silly covenant, yours was the blame," shouted Garrett, and an ear-splitting applause on the Democratic side followed. "If it was a joke, yours is still the blame. You have sown the wind—oh, how much wind you have sown! Now reap the whirlwind. If your covenant was sincere, it was criminal; but you have made your bed—lie in it, or lie to keep from lying in it."

Then Garrett proceeded to "produce the goods" to show that the Republicans had been preaching prosperity and a protective tariff as inseparable heavenly twins.

Mrs. Clarke's father served in the Maryland house of delegates, and the State and United States Senate. He was elected as a Whig governor in 1844, and served four years.

At the outbreak of the civil war Mrs. Clarke lived with her father at Annapolis. She frequently met the Southern leaders in close conference with her father, and in a number of instances was taken into their confidence. Her father was arrested by the Federal authorities when active hostilities broke out, and imprisoned at Fort Monroe. Mrs. Clarke did all that a woman could do to help the friends of the Confederacy.

Your Oven Isn't Hot

Daughter of Maryland Gov- A fierce heat is required to make beans digestible; you can't apply it

It is simply impossible to bake beans at home, and bake them as they should be baked. You lack the facilities. Home-baked beans are heavy and hard to digest, because of insufficient heat. You fail to break down their fibre.

Let us bake for you. We bake in live steam, and our ovens are heated to 245 degrees. The result is, our beans

That nutty flavor and that sparkling zest are found in Van Camp's alone

The nutty flavor comes from using only the plumpest, ripest beans. It is also due to baking without bursting.

The piquant tang comes from vine-ripened tomatoes. Our sauce costs us five times what some sauce is sold for. The delicious blend comes from baking the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork for 90 minutes together.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

Baking beans at home is a bother. It takes too much time. That is why you don't serve them frequently. Van Camp's are always ready. Put the can in hot water, then open, and you have a delicious meal steaming hot. You will eat more beans when you know Van Camp's. First, because they're convenient. Second, because they're so good. In 1859, just after her failher vas elected United States Senator, she married Mr. Clarke, who died some years ago. Mrs. Clarke is survived by four children, Mrs. John N. Mackenzie, Miss Adelaide Pratt Clarke, Thomas Pratt Clarke, of Newark, N. J., and William Bowle Clarke.

Beans and meat have about the same food value, but look at the difference in cost. Suppose your people ate beans once a day-think what you would save.

Why not tempt them with beans which are as good as beans can be? Then note how soon they ask for more. They will like Van Camp's better than meat.
